

others got out, leaving only the boy in the carriage.

Cross-examined by Gaddes the witness said he was a striker. He went to work five days ago. He did not know whether his going back to work forfeited his connection with the order. He did not know whether the witness was as to his identification of Worden and the boy. He could not describe either. He never saw Worden before. He could not tell how the boy was dressed.

Samuel Knight, Assistant United States District Attorney, was next called. He was in Sacramento from July 1 until July 19, on official business connected with the strike. He had met Knox, Compton, Mullin and Worden, and had three conversations with the Mediation Committee. Marshall Baldwin, Knox, Worden, Compton, Mullin and Worden, and had three conversations with the Mediation Committee. Marshall Baldwin, Knox, Worden, Compton, Mullin and Worden, and had three conversations with the Mediation Committee.

Worden said the government was wrong. Finally, on the meeting over Worden volunteered to allow the Marshall and the witness across the yards to clear ground. As Worden was leaving he addressed some question to the Marshall, but he did not have an answer. Worden then said: "You had better answer that question. I'm well known around here; my name is Worden."

The second witness called was Marshall Baldwin, who was with the Mediation Committee at the Golden Eagle Hotel. The Marshall told the committee that he proposed to move a mail train the next day. Knox said he didn't want to have any trouble. He would do all he could to keep the peace. He asked the Marshall to permit them to send a committee to them within the line to see if they were not subject to being induced on the train to join the strikers. Baldwin assented to this with the understanding that on the slightest evidence of violence or other such privilege would be denied. The next morning with the Mediation Committee was held July 3. Knox declared he did not intend to violate any injunction. Either Compton or Mullin stated that they were under which they were acting were unconstitutional, and that the courts had been bought. "Why don't you men then elect judges who will not be bought?"

Compton replied that all men sell themselves. He told Baldwin he would sell himself if he were a poor man and he offered $10,000. Baldwin denied it. Compton said: "We have a strike lawfully, if we can, but, if compelled, we will resort to any means to win," and further stated: "This practically means we will use force. I have stated that the men were peaceable, inclined, and would do all they could to preserve peace. Witness then went into an account of the attempt to move a train on July 4, which has already been published.

Gen. Hart cross-examined the witness at great length. Counsel wanted to know if the soldiers were ordered through the Marshall to shoot people down. Witness refused to answer the question, on the ground that communications between officers of the government were not subject to be overheard in a random examination. The court sustained the witness in his refusal to answer. The witness was excused, and the court began a recess. At the afternoon session Marshall Baldwin was sworn. He testified as to the condition of the strike affairs at Sacramento when he arrived. Knox said he did not object to the witness's testimony, but claimed that the Pullmans ought not to be considered any part of a mail train. Worden was at that interview, and had a good deal to say. At a time Knox asked the Marshall not to take too many deputies along, as it would be easier to handle the crowd. Witness told of the exciting events on July 3. He saw Worden and the witness were very angry, and refused to obey the orders of the witness. At last the witness ordered Worden arrested; then Mullin asked witness not to cause Worden trouble. "That if he would not, he (Mullin) would have Worden taken away."

Marshall Baldwin's account of the second interview at the Golden Eagle with the Mediation Committee was substantiated the same as the version of Mr. Knight. Witness said that Knox always declared he would do all he could to control the men and peace, and asked witness to be lenient. On cross-examination Baldwin said that so far as Knox, Mullin and Compton were concerned they were always very angry toward him, but Worden was not always so. Mr. H. Weinstein was called to identify the report of Gen. Hart, submitted in evidence. The cross-examination of the witness was merely a corroboration of direct testimony. George Sent of Sacramento was next called. He is manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company in this city. Witness was in attendance in compliance with a subpoena which required his presence, together with certain messages sent from his office, at the court on July 3. He was subpoenaed because the messages asked for were not sufficiently described, and read the rules of the company in this respect. The result expressed a strong disinclination to answer any questions ordered by the court. The query, "Did you bring any telegrams with you in compliance with the subpoena?" was answered on a long discussion. Attorney Cook demanded an answer, but Sent refused to reply without an order from the court.

Attorney Cook then offered evidence served upon the telegraph man. It called for all telegrams sent over the wires of the Western Union between June 27 and July 15, signed by Marshall Baldwin, from Sacramento to Chicago, Wilkes, from Sacramento to Los Angeles. Gen. Hart came to the relief of the witness in a speech, in which he denied the right of the prosecution to compel the telegraph man to produce telegrams before authorities could give. Bruner said all the witness wanted was proper authority in the form of an order from the court. The witness then, after a few minutes, and that then the witness would produce the required documents. Judge Fisher refused to make the order and the witness was temporarily excused.

During the afternoon proceedings Worden was extremely boisterous and unruly, and once addressed the court, but was compelled to sit down. At the conclusion of the testimony Gen. Hart made a strong argument, demanding bail in behalf of his clients, Knox, Mullin and Compton, but the court refused to allow it at this time. Troubled and angry, Worden, Compton, Mullin and Worden, and had three conversations with the Mediation Committee.

Worden Baldwin, Knox, Worden, Compton, Mullin and Worden, and had three conversations with the Mediation Committee. Marshall Baldwin, Knox, Worden, Compton, Mullin and Worden, and had three conversations with the Mediation Committee.

Corbett's Manager Talks About His Plans.

Brady Says That the Champion Mistrusts Jackson.

The California Boy, However, Wishes to Meet Him.

Races at Marysville—Manager Bowden Horse-whipped—Boston Beats Baltimore—The Eastern Track and Diamond.

Associated Press Special Service. NEW YORK, July 27.—W. A. Brady, manager of Pugilist Corbett, arrived today by the Britannic. He appears to be deeply interested in bringing about a meeting between Corbett and Jackson.

"Jim has some very pronounced ideas of Jackson," said he. "He does not believe the Australian wants a finish fight. This is the reason for all the talk about a twenty-round engagement at the National Sporting Club, which should be called the Jackson Club," he added, with a sneer. "Why, they are all Jackson people to a man and Jim would not have the ghost of a chance. We know that Davies and Lord Londale have been in constant communication and the former by guaranteeing a purse of $15,000 tried to force Jim into a match, but they did not succeed."

"George Fittie told me that the two men could not fight twenty rounds in that club unless one was beaten. I saw four draw battles. It's only a sixteen-fight ring, and Jim, after looking the place over, told them frankly he did not like their club nor their money and would not fight there."

"But there are no available clubs here save those in the South," was suggested. "You expect Jim to fight there?"

"For my part, I do not know what to expect from Jackson, but I'll tell you, as I started to, what Jim expects him to do. Jim expects him to come out here, make a grandstand play about the South, and then retire, or else, after a while of talking, finally agree to fight below the Mason and Dixon line. Then his manager will say that he has conceded everything to Corbett. Corbett will fight him anywhere in the United States, and any time he will suit him. When the fight is over, he will throw some turkey talk in Jackson's direction; depend upon that."

"How about Fitzsimmons?" "Oh," said Brady, pausing, as though to place the man's name. "Fitzsimmons wants to fight Corbett, eh? Well, Corbett wants to arrange things with Jackson just at present, but the long one need not be alarmed about getting shut out. Some time, and it is very soon, Jim will agree to put him out in four rounds. Fitzsimmons cuts no figure with Corbett. He is not intended to in this season."

Brady spoke enthusiastically of the treatment shown Corbett in England, Ireland, Holland and France.

Associated Press Special Service. SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Editorial blood is about to be spilled. But for the mailing of a letter to the editor of the "San Francisco Chronicle" on Tuesday evening last, the case on Tuesday evening last.

The man who sent the challenge was L. P. Bulach of the Soboda, a Serbian paper, printed in hostile opposition to the older-established publication known as the "San Francisco Chronicle," and formerly owned by B. M. Gopchewitch, who had sent the challenge, arrived at the battle-ground, near the entrance of Golden Gate Park, about 7 o'clock, accompanied by a few trusted friends and a physician. They hovered in the bushes and shivered in the fog for nearly an hour in deadly fear, but whether that the other principal party, who did not come, however, and a gleam of joy in his eyes.

Love Came to the Old Bookkeeper Just Before Death. Associated Press Special Service. SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Miss Mary Amelia Holden has almost secured a windfall of $30,000 through the act of an old man who fell in love with her, killed her and her property and then died.

James Bowles, one of the oldest bookkeepers in the city, was the man who fell in love with her just before she was killed. But then Bowles was always peculiar. For many years he had a little rookery at the corner of Leidesdorf and Commercial streets. In this little rookery he had some valuable books, many of which are out of print and command high prices. In early days Bowles did a big business, and accumulated several thousands of dollars. His mode of life was most frugal. He never had more than one suit of clothes at a time. He only left his old room when compelled to by the rookery being destroyed. Bowles died eight years ago, before he left Leidesdorf street. He took a room at Mrs. John Holden's lodging-house. After he moved to Fourth street he gave Miss Mary Holden a position as saleswoman and bookkeeper in his store. Bowles forced a great attachment for the girl, and, in the middle of May last, proposed marriage to her. Miss Holden was but 19 and Bowles, Bowles was not dissatisfied with the young girl, and she referred him to her parents, who consented to the match. A few days later the old bookworm died.

THE O. R. AND N. It is Reaching Out for Business Under Its Associated Press Special Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Fred W. Conner, formerly connected with the Milwaukee Railroad, was today appointed general agent of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company in this city, and the company is to open an office in San Francisco within a few days for the transaction of business with the passenger business. W. H. Hurlbut, general passenger agent of the company, has been in town for the past few days making plans for the new arrangement, and in a few days the Southern Pacific will have an important rival in the field catering to overland business.

The Oregon Railway and Navigation Company has been recently a portion of the Union Pacific system, but the appointment of a separate receiver for the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, a few days ago, throws the latter road upon its own resources, and it will henceforth have to fight for its traffic which the Southern Pacific has been permitted to monopolize, if it intends to maintain an existence.

It is an open secret that the Union Pacific is bound by contract with the Southern Pacific to handle no Pacific freight by way of Portland. It has always been handled by the two roads by way of Ogden, and the steamers plying between Portland and San Francisco have only handled such way freight as they could pick up between those points. Now the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company has to compete for that business, which it is now proposing to do, as it can offer through service from San Francisco via Portland to St. Paul and Chicago.

For nearly two years they have done business there, cutting prices and quarreling daily. Today a farmer asked Bennett to mend his wagon-brake. Bennett said he did not wish to do so, and advised the man not to give the job to his rival. Abbott overheard this and went to the desk and got a revolver, and after a few words, fired three times at Bennett at close range. Although both men were of excellent reputation they have quarreled so long and bitterly that a tragic outcome has been for some time anticipated by the community.

MILES OF FLAMES.

Widespread Devastation by Forest Fires.

Human Beings, Towns, Cattle and Timber Burned.

British Columbia, Wisconsin and Other Parts Suffer.

Associated Press Special Service. SPOKANE, July 27.—A Spokane-Review special from Kalo says that the losses so far reported from the awful forest fire raging throughout the mountains of that section aggregate about $125,000. The people of the Slocan district are left destitute, without shelter or food. A relief party has gone there, but it is feared that it will be great suffering before it reaches the town. Fires have been burning around the ill-fated town for several days, but about noon a roaring gale swept down the mountains, lifting high in the air the tops and limbs of burning trees and carrying them down to the town. The fire was then in a thousand different places, most instantly a dozen fires were raging in Three Forks.

Terror-stricken people had to flee for their lives, leaving everything behind them. The proprietor of a laundry and bath-house and his wife jumped into the lake and swam to safety. A man reached a place of shelter. At Bear Lake Mr. Mahoney, who ran a hotel, with his wife and two small children, waded out from the burning shore and remained there for hours. It is almost certain that a number of lives have been lost among the prospectors.

The total loss at Three Forks is about $65,000. At Watson, a small town, $25,000. It is feared that Callahan, a telegraph operator at Watson, and Frank Price, who was on the north fork of the Snake, are also lost.

GREAT DAMAGE. ASHLAND (Wis.), July 27.—Forest fires are producing suffering and loss throughout this vicinity, and railroad companies have never before experienced such damage from fire. On the Wisconsin Central road it is impossible to move trains. Phillips, the headquarters of the John B. Davis Lumber Company, a man facturing town of 2500, is destroyed by fire.

A dispatch received from Fairfield, a small station a few miles from Ashland, says that a fire has broken out there. The fire is very near the city of Centralia. Great volumes of smoke are rising in a heavy column. The thermometer indicates as high as 106 deg. in the shade today.

HEMMED IN. MEDFORD (Wisc.), July 27.—What is known as Powell's Mills, eight miles from here, saw today a fire which is threatening the town. The fire is very near the city of Centralia. Great volumes of smoke are rising in a heavy column. The thermometer indicates as high as 106 deg. in the shade today.

BOYCOTT BURNED OUT. LA CROSSE (Wis.), July 27.—At 1:30 o'clock this morning fire broke out in Boycott's printing office, and destroyed the entire three-story building. The Hotel Young, next door was filled with Capt. Day, U.S.N., Confirms the Advices from Seoul.

A Comparison of the Forces of the Two Countries—A Steamer Arrives at Victoria from Yokohama With War News.

Associated Press London—wire Service.

LONDON, July 27.—(By Atlantic Cable.) A dispatch received at 11:30 a.m. today from Lloyd's agent at Shanghai, China, confirms the announcement exclusively credited to the Associated Press last Saturday that war between China and Japan has been declared. Hugh Matheson & Co., the Chinese government's agents in England, have received a message, which also confirms the announcement. Both Chinese and Japanese ministers say that they have not been officially informed that war has been declared. They also claim to be ignorant that the Japanese have captured the King of Korea.

The immediate cause of the declaration of war is said to be the fact, exclusively announced by the Associated Press on July 24, that the Japanese attacked the Chinese steamer, the Mikado, in the Korea. It is believed that a number of Chinese ships have been sunk by Japanese cruisers. Telegraphic communication has been twice completely interrupted, beyond Nagasaki, Japan, and all messages have been delayed. If the treaty ports remain open, England expects to make a continuous profit out of the war, while the fact that Russia is directly or indirectly giving assistance to Japan is likely to place a perpetual stop upon Russia's trade progress with China.

Chinese Representative Matheson, when questioned on the subject today by a representative of the Associated Press, said that he had expected that the war, at the outset, would be favorable to Japan, as that country had long been preparing for this contest by building up a fleet of men and marines and equipping warships. Matheson added that the Japanese are a quick-moving nation, and consequently it is not to be expected that the engagement between them and the slower-moving Chinese would result in victory for the arms of the Mikado. But eventually China must crush Japan.

"Japan," said Matheson, "is absolutely not able to pour out such a torrent of men and material as China, which country can carry on a war for many years if necessary and always with fresh troops. China of recent years has purchased large quantities of munitions of war and is not so far behind in this respect as is generally believed."

The manager of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank said: "I have not received any confirmation of the report that war has been declared between China and Japan, but I should not be surprised if such was the case. One of the results of the war will be to put the great trade in the hands of European nations, to the disadvantage of China and Japan, but the end of the war will be the making of China everywhere, and opening China for all time to western trade and commerce. China will realize through this war her great and undeveloped strength."

The consensus of opinion in London is in sympathy with China. This is owing mainly to Russia's active policy in England's progress in the far east. The American government, however, has not yet taken any definite position. The city suggests doubt as to China's ability to cope with Japan, as it is known here that much of the Chinese war equipment recently purchased from England, for instance, it is said that 400,000 rounds of ammunition with a large amount of ammunition for these weapons, which were recently sold to the Chinese, are not likely to prove very effective acquisitions to China in this emergency. The rifles referred to would not have been discarded had they been of much use, and it is reported that the cartridges sold with them are not fit to be used.

LACKS CONFIRMATION.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The report of a declaration of war between Japan and China lacks official confirmation here. The Japanese Legation believes that had war been declared Minister Tanaka would have been informed.

CAPT. DAY AT CHEMULPO.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The King of Korea is a Japanese prisoner. This information was an important statement in a telegram dated yesterday, which Secretary Herbert has received from Capt. Day, U.S.N., of the United States frigate Albatross, now at Chemulpo, Korea. Capt. Day reported that he had dispatched marines to Seoul to protect the United States legation.

AT SEOUL.

TIENTSIN, July 27.—British and United States warships at Chemulpo have landed detachments of marines at Seoul in order to protect the legations. At Seoul a conflict is said to have occurred between the Japanese and some British troops, and the soldiers, the Japanese being victorious. Shortly afterward the Japanese made prisoner the King of Korea and are said to have sent him to Japan, where he will be detained until the war is over. Rumor also has it that on Wednesday a Japanese cruiser sank a Chinese cruiser conveying troops.

READY WITH THEIR GUNS.

YOKOHAMA, July 27.—Cable communication between Japan and Korea is interrupted, but rumor does not seem to indicate that a Japanese warship fired upon a Chinese warship at Kusan, upon receiving hostile provocation.

SPECULATION AS TO THE FUTURE.

TIENTSIN, July 27.—While no formal declaration of war, according to the usual diplomatic forms, has been made the governments of both China and Japan recognize that war exists and that more collisions are expected hourly. The general opinion seems to be that while Japan may be looked upon as likely to score the first victory, the war will not be a long one. Negotiations are still in progress, and there is a vague chance amicable arrangements may be arrived at. Should this be the case the travel engagements that have already taken place will be mutually dissolved, otherwise they will be held to constitute a casus belli. Nobody here close to the authorities at Peking believes for a moment that the dispute can be settled without a war.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

LONDON, July 27.—Mr. Buxton, parliamentary secretary, said in the House of Commons today that cable messages received yesterday from the British envoy at Peking and Tokyo announce that the negotiations were continuing in spite of the outbreak of hostilities. The latter, Buxton added, had sent a formal declaration of war being made.

ORDERED TO TOKYO.

KANSAS CITY, July 27.—Hon. P. Lepp, the French Minister to Japan, passed through here tonight en route to Tokyo, Japan, where he has been ordered by his government to proceed with all haste. He received, he said, a brief cablegram, telling him to endeavor to reach Tokyo by August 20. He was in the City of Mexico at the time, and immediately departed, but was compelled to come this way on business. He left for St. Paul Tuesday, and from there will go to Victoria, taking the steamer there for Yokohama.

ANOTHER VERSION.

LONDON, July 27.—From Chinese official sources no confirmation can be obtained of a report, alleged to have been received from Shanghai by a news agency here, to the effect that Japanese cruisers have attacked and sunk many Chinese steamships which were landing troops from Tokyo.

THE STANDARD'S CORRESPONDENT.

The Standard's correspondent at Brussels, from an authoritative source, says that the Chinese government welcomed a proposal made by Japan that the two governments should jointly against the Korean rebels, and that it is hoped to complete an agreement.

STILL Muddled.

LONDON, July 27.—The Postmaster and Oriental Steam Navigation Company and other London firms doing business with the East have received telegrams confirming the Associated Press advices that war has been declared between China and Japan, despite the fact that neither the British Foreign Office nor the foreign legations have received any official confirmation of the news.

WAR RISKS.

LONDON, July 28.—Numerous transatlantic cables were made at Lloyd's yesterday. There are rumors that the Chinese government intends to negotiate a loan.

A STEAMER FROM JAPAN.

Lieut. Fox, U.S.N., and Others Think China Will Not Fight.

Associated Press London—wire Service.

VICTORIA (B. C.) July 27.—The steamer Empress of India, eleven days from Yokohama, arrived today. Ignorant of the latest cable advices, the passengers almost to a man are of the opinion that the war will not be fought, but will diplomatically get out of the corner into which she has been driven. That seems to have been the general opinion of foreigners in the Orient when the Empress left.

A DISPATCH FROM CHEMULPO.

Under the date of July 5, giving the latest advices received at Yokohama, said: "The Chinese appear to be holding from action in Korea for various reasons, one of which is the fact that the Japanese are not yet ready to begin the war. The Japanese flag ship Battleship left for Nagasaki for stores on the 3d. The Mikado is expected to leave Shanghai for this port on July 7. WOMAN'S RULE.

W.R.C. Day at the G.A.R. Encampment.

The Veterans are Made to Walk a Chalk Line.

The Court-martial of Capt. Dill for a Heinous Offense.

Convicted in Short Order, but He Managed to Escape Punishment—Additions to the State Organization—Dis-tinguished Visitors.

SANTA MONICA, July 27.—(Special Correspondence.) Stanton W.R.C. of Los Angeles had charge of the meeting at Assembly Hall Thursday evening, and Mrs. Francisco Austin presided. The tent was, as usual, overcrowded, and enthusiasm needed but a touch for development. Mrs. Luther opened the programme with a piano solo, and was followed by Miss Cora Harrison, who recited Carleton's "Bessie's Three Loves" with such good effect that she was obliged to respond to an encore. Mrs. Kate Tupper-Galpin made an address on behalf of the Bartlett monument fund, and during the evening a collection was taken up for the fund, which footed $65, and a number of additions to this have since been made.

Late in the evening Mrs. Galpin recited "Charles McGee," and, for an encore, "Searching for the Star." Mrs. J. B. Brown and Miss Young contributed to the music which divided the other exercises, and several others bore a part in this feature of the evening, which was among the best of the encampment.

W.R.C. DAY.

Friday was W.R.C. day, and opened with court-martial, presided over by Mrs. Dr. Brunson. This change in the chief justice brought about a desired change in the results accomplished, and stern justice was vindicated. Capt. Dill was arraigned on a charge of disturbing the peace. It was shown that he drank a cup of camp tea; tore a passion to letters; broke into headquarters and stole a hat; and that Adm. Brady has held a souvenir over since '83, tore through camp with it at midnight, harassed to a blood-curdling scream of the crew, and frightened half the children within hearing into madness and wound up in the top of a cypress tree, where he pulled all the tail feathers out of the eagle which had been assigned to a room there.

Capt. Dill's only defense was that there had been no peace in camp to disturb since Monday morning, at which hour she had folded her wings, and like the Arab, stolen the commissary's camp kettle and departed, presumably for the headquarters of the late mounted strike. As the commissary lacked sufficient funds to bribe the jury he was convicted and sentenced to be drummed out of camp at 3 o'clock. The only thing that saved him was that the ladies, at the last moment, had all the drums in use in their dress parade. Mrs. Mitchell was next arraigned on a charge of moon stealing, under the clause declaring it a crime to be found out. She pleaded guilty, but was acquitted on the ground of emotional insanity and an ungovernable taste for fruit.

The ladies commanded the camp and ruled it despotically all day. Comrades detected without escort were treated to all sorts of indignities that shocked their sensitive feelings. There was life and joy around every campfire, and the day was one of the most thoroughly enjoyable of the encampment.

At 4 o'clock there was a creditable dress parade, when more than one hundred ladies lined up and answered to the call by States.

FROM HEADQUARTERS.

General orders No. 7, promulgated Friday morning, appointed John A. Rouch, of John A. Martin Post, sergeant major of the encampment. It also detailed the following for Saturday: John A. Rouch, Comrade Wright; officer of the guard, Comrade Hubbard.

General orders No. 8 followed. Its language is this: "Any lady who is caught smoking the breath of any comrades in this camp on or after this date will be court-martialed, and if found guilty, will be drummed out of camp."

This provision was found necessary to preserve the sobriety of the ladies, some of whom had been overcome by carelessly transgressing the rule here laid down.

The children of the camp are requested to report at headquarters Saturday morning, at 9:30, where they will form and march to the pavilion. There a programme will be rendered for their special benefit. The commander requests all comrades to report at headquarters any thieves or disreputable characters who may be discovered in or around the camp, and suggests that a careful watch be maintained.

GRAPE SHOT.

Gov. E. F. Brown and staff came down from the Soldiers' Home Friday, and were conspicuous and honored visitors to the camp.

While the ladies were debouching in Lincoln Circle, previous to dress parade, some mean, strong man stole a march on the pickets and carried most of them away, guns, bayonets and all. The offenders will doubtless be court-martialed and shot.

There is a silk block quilt in camp, for which some are selling, the funds to go to the Bartlett monument fund.

Over six hundred and fifty names had been enrolled on the W.R.C. register up to 3 o'clock Friday.

The Iowa Association has been successfully photographed, but as the machine popped while Capt. A. H. Johnson of Monrovia was hunting up a flag, you cannot hear the boys laughing.

Comrade C. C. Brown had rather march with the sisters than stand in the front row of battle, when bullets are thickest. Among the veterans in camp are seven members of the navy from the United States steamer Gazel.

The following is a list of new arrivals of the Vicksburg Post from Pomona: George W. I. B. Dill and family, A. H. Snyder, R. A. Holt, Mrs. A. D. Osborne, Mrs. Gen. Howe, B. F. Tison and wife, H. H. Williams, O. E. Penny, Mrs. Duffy and son, A. H. Meyer and O. A. Warner. There continues a steady stream of arrivals in camp from day to day, and the social life under canvas grows warmer and livelier as the time goes by.

Run Over by a Sprinkling Cart.

A coroner's inquest was held at Savannah yesterday morning over the remains of little William Robert Varble, the four-year-old son of one of the employees on L. J. Rose's ranch. The boy was run over by a sprinkling cart driven by a man named Jensen on the three-quarter-mile race-track, and instantly killed. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts given, exonerating Jensen from blame for the accident.

The groom was attired in the conventional black. The decorations were tasteful and elegant. Jack Craig, the Murderer, Again in Court.

Arraigned on the Charge of Killing His Wife.

Stamped as a Despicable Coward by His Own Actions.

He Had to Lean on the Officers for Support While the Charge Was Being Read to Him—His Actions in the Jail.

Again yesterday morning Jack Craig, the murderer, was brought by an armed guard from his solitary cell in the upper wing of the County Jail to stand before the bar of justice and listen to the reading of the second charge against him. As the court slowly uttered the words of the complaint, changing him with the wilful and premeditated murder of his wife Emily on the night of July 25, the prisoner stood before him trembling with weakness, great strong, burly man though he is, and leaning for support upon the officers beside him—branded by his own looks, by his trembling voice and by his tottering gait as a despicable coward when brought face to face with his crimes.

At other times he is different; he is dull, cautious, indifferent, except when his personal comfort is interfered with or he is denied the conveniences which he demands. One would think that he imagined himself an injured patient to be humored, instead of a three times, perhaps four times, a murderer.

There was no demonstration of any kind when the prisoner was brought from the jail to the police station on Second street about 11 o'clock in the morning, and but few people knew that the man sitting in the petted wagon as it drove down Broadway with Officers Bates and Bosqui by his side and an umbrella over his head, was the man whose name has brought imprecations to the lips of all who have heard the story of Wednesday night's atrocities.

After the arraignment before Justice Seaman the prisoner was escorted back to the jail and the key turned on him in his solitary cell by Jailer Kennedy. Sheriff Cline has ordered that no visitors be allowed to see the prisoner, even his attorneys being obliged to obtain a special permit. Every precaution is being taken to prevent Craig taking his own life, though the general opinion is that he is too much of a coward to attempt anything of the sort. This is the reason why the opinion is so universally held that Craig did not really try to kill himself when he fired the shots at his own head.

The wounds have proved no more serious than first indications tended to show, and will be quite healed within a few days. Dr. Shrove, who is attending him, states that they are superficial ones, only two stitches being taken in one and one in the other, and that he will be all right again in ten days' time.

A few further facts concerning Craig's family were learned yesterday. His mother, sister and two brothers are living in Morro, Macon county, Ill. The sister is unmarried and is engaged in teaching school in that locality. One of the brothers is a practicing physician. About seven years ago another brother was killed in railroad accident at Colton, in this State. He was a brakeman at the time on a freight train of seventeen cars which were derailed at that point.

George Hunter, Craig's fourth victim, has improved but little since the night of the murders. He is suffering from the effects of a bullet, which entered about the middle of the left cheek, ranging downward toward the throat. The trouble is that the bullet is still lodged somewhere in the back of the patient's mouth, or else lower down in his neck, and it has thus far been impossible for Drs. Cole and Shoemaker, the attending physicians, to locate it.

The patient's face, and especially his eyes, are badly powdered, and the attending physicians yesterday administered ether and removed the powder.

Dr. Cole says that the report that Hunter is sinking rapidly is not true, but that, on the contrary, he is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances, leading them to entertain hopes of his recovery.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, and Mrs. Emily Craig will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the undertaking parlors of Neitske & Speck, at No. 256 South Main street.

All day yesterday numbers of morbidly curious people kept calling at the undertakers to view the bodies.

TOUGH YOUNGSTERS.

A Couple of Incurables Confined in the County Jail.

Humane Officer Wright handed over two small boys to the care of Jailer Kennedy yesterday, pending arrangements which will permit their removal to Whittier. The boys, Tony Steer and Antonio Robinson by name, are little fellows almost small enough to squeeze through the iron bars of the prison, but they are booked as incurables, and if present indications continue for anything, have promising criminal careers before them.

The boys were apprehended for wearing chickens on Thursday night, and seemed quite proud of their exploits. One of them explained how he cut one of the chickens open, found some eggs, and ate them. The youngsters afforded amusement to the crowd of older criminals at the County Jail with their capers and antics and lively chatter, and were not at all awed by their formidable surroundings.

Steer is the son of a washerwoman at No. 282 Buena Vista street, his father being dead. The other has no mother, but says his father lives on Third street somewhere.
